National conventions for writing telephone numbers

India

Telephone numbers in India are 10 digits long (excluding an initial zero that is required at times) and fall in at least four distinct categories:

1. Landlines: Written as 0AAA-BBBBBB, where AAA is the Subscriber Trunk Dialing code (long distance code) andBBBBBB is the phone number. The total length of the Subscriber Trunk Dialing code and the phone number is 10 digits.
2. Mobiles: Written as AAAAA-BBBBB for ease of remembering (though the prefix is either 2-digits or 4-digits in the numbering plan). Mobile numbers which are not local need to be prefixed by a 0 while dialing, or by +91 (91 is the country code for India). A mobile number written as +91-AAAAA-BBBBB is valid throughout India, and in other countries where the + is recognized as a prefix to the country code.
3. Toll Free: These are usually ten-digit numbers beginning with 1-800. Sometimes they are accessible (or are toll-free) only when called from the government-owned telephone corporation, BSNL/MTNL.
4. Service numbers: These are usually three- or four-digit numbers (e.g. Police is 100) used to access an emergency service (Fire, Ambulance, Police, Roadside assistance) or a value-added service.

International direct dialing (IDD)

International direct dialing (IDD) or international subscriber dialing (ISD) is the process of an international telephone call being placed by the caller (the subscriber) rather than by an operator. The term international subscriber dialing was used in the United Kingdom and Australia until the terminology was changed to international direct dialing. Since the late 20th century, most international calls are dialed directly.

Calls are made by dialing the international call prefix for the country one is in, followed by the country calling code for the country one wishes to call, and followed by the phone number within that country. When phone numbers are published for use abroad they typically include the country calling code, but replace the international call prefix with "+" to signify that the caller should use the prefix appropriate for their country. For mobile phones, the plus sign (+) can be used instead of the prefix.

International Subscriber Dialing

For International Subscriber Dialing (ISD) first dial the Access Code of the country you are in then the Country Code of the country you wish to reach followed by the Area Code and the Number required.

Example: When you are in Australia and would like to make a call to Siamese cyber aquarium Ltd, Part number 812 5408

Access Code of Australia ____ Country code of Thailand ____ Area Code of Bangkok ____ Siamese cyber aquarium
